The Serene Design

An S-shaped architecture distributes the structural stress evenly along the arc allowing for more stable construction, relieving it of upward pressure and demanding fewer resources.

This shape allows for abundant daylight into the homes while creating wind catchment zones within its curves. This translates into better lateral movement of air and increased ventilation.

And the best part - it allows for an unobstructed view from any unit on any floor in any tower

The design expresses a sinuous trail of architecture with features based on:

Movement | Progression | Grace | Harmony

Tower Features

The contemporary aesthetics of the S-shaped architecture allows for increased ventilation, abundant natural light and breath-taking views from each unit.

Taking inspiration from the serenity and greenery all around, the towers are not only designed with panoramic views, but also a walking deck with the finest of amenities to escape the ordinary.

Enjoy the panoramic beauty of nature while you unwind at the clubhouse above 350 ft. Live in an abode surrounded by the mesmerizing landscape and connect with nature, all day every day at the architectural marvel that is Aaradhya Parkwood.
